Municipality launches Strathroy 150 website!

Progress Through Partnership committee takes the lead in community celebrations

(Strathroy, Ontario – January 15, 2009) The Municipality of Strathroy-Caradoc has launched an exciting new website to promote the community of Strathroy's 150th anniversary.

Coordinated by the Progress Through Partnership committee, www.strathroy150.ca will be a launching point to all things celebrating our sesquicentennial.

Contribute your memories and stories to our online time capsule, download a lesson plan for your classroom, or find out when the next "birthday" event is taking place. Historic photos and maps and downloadable "Strathroy 150" graphics are also available to help you spread the 150 spirit!

Many community groups already have plans underway to mark this special year in Strathroy's history. The website will be a great way to keep up with all the events and projects happening in the community—and to find out how to join in!

This anniversary is an exciting time to remember the determination of our founders, and celebrate the spirit that makes our community so great today. Join the party by contributing your Strathroy Story, attending a community event, or becoming a community partner. Browse the site for many fun and special ways to mark this milestone, and visit often to stay in the loop!
